I am trying to create a rectangle in the canvas using JavaScript in order to be executed in the interval in a loop. The function of my task is to create a same rectangle type time to time. The problem is that when the number of rectangles is increased the time to create each rectangle increases. Is there any possibility to speed up the process? The main goal is to get the performance almost same as the native HTML5 Canvas. The code I am using is: var canvas = document.getElementById("img"), ctx = canvas.getContext("2d"); var rect = function(x, y, w, h) { var newContext = canvas.getContext("2d"); canvas.width = canvas.width; var a = w * h, x = x + (w * 0 6d1f23a050
